TITLEONE ANNOUNCES SSAE 16 (SOC1) RECERTIFICATION

Certification Validates Company's Commitment to Protecting Customer Data

Boise—TitleOne, a locally owned title and escrow company based in Idaho, today announced that it has received recertification for the Statement on Standards for Attestation Engagements (SSAE) No. 16. A widely recognized auditing standard developed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, SSAE 16 verifies that a company has been through an in-depth audit of its control objectives and activities to ensure the safety and security of its customer data.

SSAE 16 recertification involves a comprehensive assessment of an organization's customer support processes, change management, database security, data backup, systems availability, and monitoring of network security and Logical Access Network.

"In today's environment, data breaches are becoming more common, so exceeding the industry standards in operations is a priority at TitleOne, and well worth the effort and investment." said CEO Mark Tidd.

"Achieving recertification of the SSAE 16 requirements reflects TitleOne's continued commitment to excellence in operations and customer service and reinforces our commitment to ensuring the security and privacy of our customer's confidential data."
